

environmental policy

Aldon CCS Ltd is aware of the environmental impact of its business operations. We therefore believe it is essential that all parties, within and without our organisation, co-operate in recognising and reducing that impact.

To this end, Aldon CCS Ltd commits to the following aims:

To operate our business in a manner which is sensitive to the needs and concerns of all personnel and the surrounding environment

To use, where practical, the latest technology to develop sound, environmentally conscious methods of providing our services

To integrate environmental issues into our decision making, whilst recognising that business expediency may affect our course of action

Where practical, to reduce or eliminate pollution

To continually seek ways of improving our business practices and reducing our environmental impact

To educate and train our employees in the use of environmentally conscious practices and to recognise that whatever their role, they have a responsibility to protect the environment

To ensure compliance with relevant environmental legislation and any other requirements related to our business operations

To set and achieve our environmental objectives and targets
